LETTER FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, Monday, March 23, 1868.

Another important scene in the impeachment trial closed to day. For several days the managers on the part of the House, and the counsel for the President, have been preparing for the anticipated legal skirmishing preparatory to the general engagement. Twenty-four subpœnas were issued on Saturday evening, and numerous aids of the sergeant at arms were busy searching for the persons thus summoned before the Senate as witnesses for the House of Representatives and the people of the United States. The summons was, in part, in these words:

"You, —, are commanded to appear in the Senate Chamber on the 23d of March, 1868, then and there to testify your knowledge in the cause which is now before the Senate, in which the House of Representatives have impeached Andrew Johnson, President of the United States. FAIL NOT.

"Witness: Salmon P. Chase, Chief Justice of the United States, and President of the said Senate on the trial of the said impeachment."

One thousand tickets of admission were issued—twenty to the President, four to each Senator, two to each member of the House, forty to foreign Ministers, sixty to reporters and members of the press, and so on until all were disposed of. The tickets were sent to Senators and Members on Saturday, and, as they had all been promised for weeks, they were soon distributed, mostly among the ladies, as on the previous occasion. A little after ten o'clock carriages began to arrive in front of the Capitol. Ten minutes before eleven o'clock the entrance doors to the Senate wing of the building were besieged with a crowd—the ladies outnumbering the lords of creation three to one—and, contrary to the rule which provided that the doors should not open before eleven, silks and satins in long trains swept through the marble halls, up the grand stairway, and into the galleries, which were soon filled with "fair women and brave men"—mostly the "fair." It is insinuated that those who have the distribution of the tickets are excellent judges of female beauty. And some even go so far as to charge, very unjustly, no doubt, that tickets are distributed mainly with a view to effect, and that as the intelligence, ability and statesmanship of the nation is represented on the floor of the Senate, we are to have the beauty and elegance of America represented among the spectators in the galleries. Be that as it may, the galleries were nearly filled with ladies in elegant costumes and magnificent toilets.

The floor of the Senate presented the same appearance as on the previous day of the trial. One hundred and fifty chairs were ranged behind the Senator's desks, for the accommodation of members of the House. And two long tables were placed in front of the Vice President's seat—one on the right for the President's counsel, and one on the left for the managers.

At 12 o'clock, after a prayer by the chaplain, the President pro tem., Mr. Wade, called the Senate to order and the regular routine business proceeded for half an hour. At the end of that time, after a short dispute over the proper construction of one of the rules, participated in by several Senators, the Secretary was directed to notify the Chief Justice and the House of Representatives that the Senate was ready to proceed with the President's trial. Before this, nearly all the members of the House had entered the Senate chamber. Thaddeus Stevens, who had been carried to the door in a chair, the only way he has passed in and out of the capitol this session, entered, leaning on the arm of his attendant. At 1 o'clock Mr. Wade vacated the chair. A few minutes later, the Chief Justice entered, in his judicial robes, and directed the Sergeant at arms to make proclamation, which he did in the usual form. The managers then entered in the following order: Bingham and Boutwell, Wilson and Williams, Butler and Logan, and were announced. The Sergeant at arms then announced the House of Representatives, and the members who had been standing, filed off on either side and took the chairs prepared for them. The President's counsel, except Mr. Black, took seats at the table assigned them. Those present were Messrs. Stanbery, Evarts, Nelson, Curtis and Groesbeck. Senator Doolittle, who had been absent, canvassing in New Hampshire, was called and sworn. The Secretary read the journal of the last day's proceedings. Mr. Davis then submitted an order that the Senate could not sit as a court of impeachment while ten Southern States were unrepresented. This was voted down by 49 nays to 2 yeas—Davis and McCreery voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Stanbery rose and said that in obedience to the order of the Senate, the counsel for the President were there with his answer. Mr. Curtis then read the answer, which was very elaborate. At its conclusion, the question was put to the Senate whether it should be received, and it was carried by acclamation. Mr. Evarts then asked for a further delay of thirty days, to enable the counsel to prepare the President's case, and made a lengthy speech in favor of this demand. Gen. Logan replied with all the thrilling eloquence for which he is so much noted. Stanbery urged the necessity for delay. Wilson answered in an able, argumentative speech, showing that delay was not only totally unnecessary, but dangerous. Bingham closed the discussion with one of those magnificent outbursts of eloquence which he alone can make. The vote was then taken on the proposition to allow a further delay of thirty days, and it was voted down—12 yeas to 41 nays, a strict party vote. The court then adjourned to meet again to-morrow at 1 o'clock, when the managers will file their replication. The trial will then proceed forthwith, unless a few more days be granted.

Last Monday night a diamond studded sword, valued at from $10,000 to $15,000, was stolen from the case containing the relics of General Washington, in the Patent Office. The sword was presented by the Viceroy of Peru to Commander Biddle, U. S. N., many years ago. It has since been recovered, but the thieves are not captured.

The President returned to Gen. Grant, a few days ago, the papers in regard to the anticipated rebel outbreak in Tennessee, with the endorsement that the Constitution does not authorize any interference on the part of the Federal Government, until demand has been made by the State authorities in which the insurrection has taken place. A dispatch was sent to Governor Brownlow, and he telegraphs back that the rebels are arming and threatening war, but in case they do make an attack he expects to be able to take care of them with the State militia, and will make an example of the ringleaders.

The U. S. Supreme Court has decided the passenger tax of Nevada to be unconstitutional. W. H. Crandall, the plaintiff in error, was agent of the Pioneer Stage Company at Carson City, and was ordered by the Sheriff of Ormsby county to make a statement of the number of passengers conveyed out of the State in April, 1865, in accordance with a law of that State which levies a capitation tax of one dollar upon every person leaving the State by any railroad, coach or other vehicle, employed in the transportation of passengers. The agent refused to comply with the order of the sheriff. The case went to the Supreme Court of Nevada. That court decided the law to be constitutional, and the Supreme Court of the United States has reversed the decision. This is considered a very important decision, inasmuch as it will set aside the laws of Maryland and New Jersey, which impose a capitation tax on all persons leaving or passing through those States, in any public conveyance. And, I believe, California has a similar law on her statute book.

I learn from Judge Olney that Mr. A. S. Mercer, of Astoria, who came East some months ago for that purpose, has succeeded in establishing a line of vessels to sail direct from New York to Portland. They will leave New York once a month, or oftener if there be freight. A vessel carrying some eight hundred tons is now loading in New York for Portland. Mr. J. M. Strowbridge and wife, of Portland, passed through here a few days ago on their way to Ohio, where they go to visit friends. They will start for home in a few days—perhaps by next steamer.

Governor Woods started for home to-day, overland. His name is being mentioned here in political circles in connection with the Vice Presidency.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs held a meeting last Wednesday to consider the matter of making an appropriation to pay for Alaska. Gen. Banks submitted to the committee a report asserting that it is the duty of Congress to make the required appropriation, as the treaty has been ratified by the Senate.

Washburne, of Wisconsin, offered a report opposing the appropriation, declaring that the purchase is not advisable in the present condition of the national finances, and that no material benefits to the whole country would result from the acquisition of Alaska. The committee finally postponed the subject until the first Tuesday in May next. A part of the committee will then report in favor of making the appropriation, and a part will report against it. No doubt the appropriation will finally be made, but it will meet with strong opposition.

The Senate Committee on Indian Affairs, to which Senator Williams' bill, for the sale of the Umatilla Indian reservation, was referred, has reported it to the Senate, with a recommendation that it pass.

Last week one of the huge blocks of granite for the north portico of the Treasury extension was moved upon rollers from the boat landing at the foot of eighteenth street to the Treasury building. The block is 20 feet in length, 10 feet in breadth and 2 feet 8 inches in thickness, and weighs 85 tons, nearly 200,000 pounds. It was quarried on Dick's Island, and shipped to Washington on a sailing vessel. The new extension, commenced about a year ago, is nearly completed. The new building for the Department, which was commenced last spring, is, also, nearly finished. It is situated on the public grounds west of the Smithsonian Institute, and the land around it is being turned into a public garden for the cultivation of various foreign plants and vegetables. The new building is a beautiful and commodious three-story brick structure. The Agricultural Department was formerly kept in the Patent Office.

A few days ago Kit Carson, accompanied by Gov. Hunt, of Colorado, and a delegation of Indians, left for their homes. Delegations of the Sacs and Foxes, Pottawatomies, Cherokees, Creeks, Chocktaws and Chickasaws, are still here on business with the Government.

Gen. Grant has issued a general order constituting the military "district" of Alaska a military "department," annexing it to the military "division" of the Pacific, and placing Maj. Gen. J. C. Davis in command—headquarters at Sitka.

Major General Hancock arrived here last Friday evening, in obedience to an order of the President. He was visited, at his room, at the Metropolitan hotel, by a number of his Copperhead friends and admirers.

Texas has voted in favor of a constitutional convention, electing 82 Republican delegates out of 90—81 whites, and 9 colored. The vote was 57,900, out of a registered vote of 111,000, giving a majority on the registration of less than 4,000.

The Congressional Globe is still crowded with speeches on impeachment, made (constructively) on the 24th of February, when the resolution to impeach the President was before the House of Representatives. Fifty-one members, who were unable to get the floor, asked and obtained leave to print, in the Globe, speeches which they could not get time to deliver in the House on that important occasion. The managers of the Globe office say the paper was never so crowded with speeches before.

The Senate confirmed Chas. S. King, last Tuesday, to be Indian Agent in Washington Territory. The President has nominated to the Senate J. H. Hubble to be collector of Internal Revenue in Montana; A. Huggon, U. S. District Attorney for Idaho; and Jules Newberg, Collector of Internal Revenue in Idaho.

In the Senate, last Tuesday, Senator Williams introduced a bill, which was referred to the committee on Territories, to provide a temporary government for Alaska. The bill provides for the appointment by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, of a Governor, whose salary shall be $3,000; a Judge, salary $3,000; Secretary, salary, $2,000; Attorney, Marshal and Collector of Customs, each with a salary of $1,000. The town of Sitka is made the capital, and is granted a municipal corporation similar to that of Astoria, and the laws of Oregon, compiled by Judge Deady, are made the laws of the territory, so far as applicable to the same. The same day the Senate passed the House bill to establish an assay office at Boise City, Idaho Territory, with an amendment reducing the appropriation for the same to $50,000.

The Presidency.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE AS THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

[From the New York Independent, March 19.]

Strange whisperings float through the air of great temptations addressed to the most exalted station and fair fame and, far worse, of an attent ear to these satanic seductions. We have seen great names disappear in this seven years war. The pride of the Republican party, in a pet of ambition, threw away his crown. Others have fallen as low, but none from as high a heaven, until these rumors cause saddest of eyes to turn to our zenith and see our central star trembling to its fall. May God preserve him from such an unspeakable calamity.

The terrible pleasure of fear, or flattery, or ambition, "the last infirmity of noble minds," must be most solemnly resisted. If this duty is rightly discharged, all coming generations will hold its actor in everlasting honor.

[From the New York Atlas, Democratic.]

It is by no means impossible that Salmon P. Chase may be the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The prominent mention of his name in this connection within the last few days by those who understand the drift of events, is a remarkable proof of the freedom from personal influences and prejudices with which the Democracy enter upon the presidential canvass. Never was a great party so unfettered and dispassionate. Within its ranks the universal feeling is that now, if never before, principles are everything, men nothing. Salmon P. Chase would be as warmly supported as Horatio Seymour, if a contingency should happen to make him the strongest and most popular defender of the Constitution against the Radical revolution.

From the Memphis Appeal—Albert Pike.

We have thought the Chief Justice had been guilty of a grave impropriety in descending from the bench to harangue negroes in favor of the impolicy of Congress, but we forget that in our admiration of the noble moral courage and the fidelity to duty which he displayed in assuming his place as the presiding officer of the Court of Impeachment. The calm dignity and the conscientiousness of rectitude of intention which enabled him worthily to assert in those words his own prerogatives and the supremacy of the law and then, without asking any consent, to take the oath, made his action to our mind one of the noblest things that ever was done, and his conduct as President of that Court during that and the next day was f... ... to the level of the first impressive words and acts.

From the Mobile Register—John Forsyth.

Much is to be hoped from the sagacity in statesmanship, the political solution and the personal feelings of Chief Justice Chase. Events have taken the shape of turning all the intellectual endowments and moral powers of the Chief Justice in the direction of the public good. Snubbed by the party of which he is the able and acknowledged leader, laid on the shelf for a mere man of expediency, he could gratify a noble ambition as well as his private griefs by assuming the role of champion of the constitution and savior of the free institutions of the country. If it would not be the best end for the Presidency, it would at last crown his brows with the civic laurels of a fame worthy of the loftiest ambition. Let us indulge in the hope of deliverance from this quarter.

[From the Catholic Telegraph.]

The political sky presents a misty and uncertain aspect. Until within the past week there seemed to be little room for doubt that Grant would be the Radical Presidential nominee, and Pendleton the Conservative choice. But suddenly a great cloud has loomed upon the horizon, of immense proportions when first seen, and steadily and rapidly increasing its dimensions, until it threatens to fill the whole political heavens. Scarcely a week has elapsed since a leading New York journal, the Sun, mentioned the name of Salmon P. Chase in connection with the Democratic or Conservative Presidential candidacy, and the ... change has been rung on innumerable journalistic counters, from Maine to K...a, from Minnesota to Florida.

Mr. Chase's ability as either an executive, legislative, or judicial officer he has given unquestionable proof of in each of these capacities, and acknowledged by all parties. Ohio has had no abler Governor, nor the United States Senate a greater statesman, nor the Supreme Court a more learned, dignified and impartial Chief Justice than Salmon P. Chase. His calm, dignified demeanor and ... law-abiding conduct amid the fanaticism, ... der and revolution that have of late ruled in Washington, cause him to stand out great and noble above all his cotemporaries, and cause him to be regarded by thoughtful persons as the last hope of a safe anchorage for our ... tossed, betrayed and almost wrecked ship of State.

[From the New York Sun.]

The nomination of Admiral Farragut as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency is conspicuously proposed in the World, just as that of Chief Justice Chase had been previously advocated by the Atlas. The Admiral is a capital good fellow, as full of good sense and modesty as he is of courage, and would make a first-rate President and a strong candidate. He is, however, a great ... of General Grant, and it is doubtful whether he would be willing to run against him. Besides, of the two, Farragut is much the more an out-spoken Radical in his political sentiments, so that the advantage which the Democrats would desire from taking him ... of Grant is very hard to discover. Still, the nomination is worthy of all respect, and we shall look with interest to see how it is responded to by the Pendleton men in the Northwest. As Pendleton is out in favor of plenty of greenbacks, we rather imagine th... if he is to be thrown over in favor of a new man, he will prefer Judge Chase, because he is the original author of greenbacks. But let us see what the Atlas says concerning this interesting complication. If it ... to go for Chase, as most probably it will, the ... will afford very remarkable evidence that the friends of Hoffman and Seymour, in New York, like Illinois, are inclined to ... a bold and manly cont... for ... the broad banner of the Chief Justice.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial, March 26.]

We have no idea that the Democracy will take up the Chief Justice as their Presidential candidate, or that he would accept the nomination at their hands, unless the party first ... ted to shed the old clothes which it has worn since pro-slavery times, and to put on the garments of political righteousness, whereof equal and exact justice to all men, and without ... dice because of race or color, would be the ... vestment. But if anything could induce him to "become a Democrat" and the standard-bearer of the party on less ..., it would be the hot folly of the ultras who criticise him as already coquetting and ..., and who proceed to adjudge and ... him as though proven guilty.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—The Salem (Mass.) Republican has the following:

"A lady writes us complaining that the pudding she made according to a recipe, given in our paper, was not fit for a dog to eat. If she will again refer to the paper she will find that the recipe was for making a poultice—not a pudding."

Who are the Bondholders?

The New York Evening Post publishes an article showing who the bondholders are, which is very suggestive. Of the five wealthiest men in New York city, only two are holders of United States bonds, and these only to a very inconsiderable amount, while among the whole class in New York and Brooklyn who return incomes of over one hundred thousand dollars, about the same relative proportion of bondholders exists. On the other hand, the Savings Banks of New York hold forty nine millions of bonds as investments for the funds of their depositors, the interest of which is paid to 488,501 of the laboring men and women of New York semi-annually. Of the several classes of "moneyed aristocrats" and "bloated bondholders" whose money is thus invested, the largest in numbers are, 1st, domestics; 2d, laborers; 3d, seamstresses; 4th, clerks; 5th, tailors; 6th, waiters, and 7th, cartmen. We commend to the attention of those among us who have so much to say in denunciation of a "bondholding aristocracy," a list of these "aristocrats" taken from the Savings Banks of New York and Brooklyn. The occupations of those receiving dividends on the 5-20 bonds, which Democratic demagogues are so anxious to pay "with a paper worth ten cents on the dollar," are as follows: Artists, bakers, butchers, bartenders, blacksmiths, boarding house keepers, boatmen, boiler makers, book binders, cartmen, coachmen, carpenters, clerks, domestics, engineers, farmers, fishermen, gardeners, hatters, hucksters, laborers, masons, milkmen, milliners, nurses, ostlers, peddlers, porters, plumbers, seamstresses, shoemakers, soldiers, tailors, tanners, washerwomen, waiters and weavers. Bonds in very large amounts are also held in the form of trust estates for the benefit of widows and orphans under orders of the Courts. College endowment funds, and the resources of a great number of charitable institutions are also invested in bonds. The Life Insurance Companies of New York hold over twenty millions of the bonds as security for the persons, in all parts of the country, who hold their policies, and the Fire Insurance Companies of the city hold forty-five millions for the same purpose. Wouldn't the Democratic party do a pretty job if it should carry out its scheme of virtual repudiation?

It is the fashion of many to declaim against the "bondholders," and to regard them with that envy which is always felt toward those who are looked on as a privileged class. There is no greater folly than this. If any man or woman possessing any property, no matter how small the amount, thinks there is any advantage in being a bondholder, such man or woman may become one. They can join the "privileged class" at any moment they please. As for those who possess no property of any kind, and never pay a dollar in taxes, it hardly becomes them to assail the bondholders and to [illegible] against taxation.

The Chicago Tribune, in an article on the Pendleton plan of virtual repudiation, remarks:

> The Democratic party made an enormous blunder in arraying against themselves the active hostility of all persons who are interested in the national debt. One man who holds a bond of the smallest denomination, whatever may be his political leanings and sympathies, will accomplish more work in deciding an election where his property is involved than ten men who are not bondholders and who have no special interest in the result. Pendleton lost the first battle inside his own party, in the selection of the place for holding the Democratic National Convention, by arraying against himself, the pecuniary interests of a portion of his own political family. He will lose the second battle, when the convention meets for the [illegible]. The men whose property he assails by his repudiation scheme can afford to spend their time and money to defeat him. They cannot afford to remain inactive. They cannot afford to let him get the nomination. The lazy man, equally with the enterprising, is impelled to take sides in such a fight. The man who never votes in unpleasant weather, will swim to the polls if need be to vote against a candidate who assails his pocket. The pocket nerve is the most sensitive part of the human organization, as any politician of any party, who make experiments upon it, will learn to their sorrow.

GOVERNMENT EXPENSES.—It is rather a cool proceeding for the Copperhead editors to take the estimates of Johnson's Democratic Secretaries and parade them as the "expenses of the General Government under Radical rule." The present Congress has cut down these estimates more than half. Old Welles wanted $47,000,000 for the Navy Department, but Congress has brought down the figures to $18,000,000. The army for the ensuing year will cost but $33,000,000, as General Grant has shown, instead of $120,000,000 as the secretary of the Treasury reported in his estimates, which however included over $25,000,000 for bounties that the Copperheads and Confederates would stop paying if they could. The Government is also paying about $30,000,000 annually as pensions, which grew out of the great war, and which the Democratic financiers would like to cut off. They could also "save" $140,000,000 a year which is paid in the way of interest, simply by repudiating the public debt, as many of them propose to do. Congress is adjusting the finances and reducing the expenses of the Government as fast as it can be done. It requires time to shape a system and adapt it to the country. We have just emerged from a great war, and ever since the rebel armies surrendered, there has been a continual strife between the Legislative and Executive departments, brought about by the criminal usurpations of the latter, which has kept the country in an unsettled condition and added many millions to the expenses of the Government. These troubles, let us hope, are in a fair way to be settled at last. The Freedman's bureau, which Copperhead editors declare costs "hundreds of millions yearly," expended during the year ending September last, just three millions two hundred and seventy nine thousand four hundred and ninety seven dollars and forty three cents, and during the months of May, June, July and August, 1867, it furnished relief in the rebel States to 91,902 whites and 86,257 blacks. These are figures which it may be profitable for some people to ponder on.

The San Francisco Chronicle says it is generally a pretty easy thing to recognize the true disciples of Satan's "Golden Rule." If you find a man defending the cruel prejudices of caste and color, if you find a man scoffing at all religion as superstition, at all piety as hypocrisy, at all philanthropy as squeamishness or sentimentalism, if you find a man who believes that every member of a church will steal if he gets a chance, a man who sneers at poetry, who has no faith in the virtue of woman, who regards all men as insincere, who profess to believe things that seem incredible to him, if you find a man who calls every man a "Puritan" who doesn't profess to [illegible], whenever you find such a man, you may be perfectly sure that that man belongs to the Satanic school, and is consciously or unconsciously engaged in propagating the Devil's Gospel.

MEETING OF IRISH UNION CITIZENS.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS—STIRRING SPEECHES—EXCELLENT LETTER FROM S. J. McCORMICK, ESQ.

Pursuant to a call made in the OREGONIAN on the 23th instant, for a meeting of the Irish American citizens of this city, the meeting assembled and was called to order by Capt. Dan O'Regan, and on motion J. H. Egan was chosen Chairman, and D. J. Malarky Secretary.

The following resolutions were read and adopted:

WHEREAS, The time has now arrived when it becomes the duty of every citizen of this Republic to take his position on the political issues now presented to the people for their careful consideration, and whereas it is the assertion of our professed friends and enemies, that the Irish American citizens of this country are clinging and antagonistic to the efforts of the Union party in the reconstruction of the States formerly in rebellion, and also opposed to the principles of free government, and further opposed to the perpetuation of this glorious republic together with many other calumnies, calculated to provoke a hostile feeling, create sectionalism and cause our actions to be looked upon with distrust; be it therefore

Resolved, That we are in favor of the amelioration and freedom of every people in every country on the globe, and we utterly repudiate and condemn the professions of those men who ask for themselves and their country those rights and privileges which they deny and refuse to others.

Resolved, That we endorse the actions of Congress in their efforts to reconstruct and perpetuate this Union.

Resolved, That we hold it to be the duty of this Government to protect its citizens at home and abroad on land or at sea, in their rightful possession of life, liberty and property.

Resolved, That we are in favor of instructing our Representatives in the State Legislature to memorialize Congress, through our representatives there, to repeal the act of the reciprocity treaty entered into between the United States and Great Britain in 1818, and by virtue of which President Johnson ordered General Meade to arrest and disarm citizens of the United States, and by virtue of which they were arrested and imprisoned.

Resolved, That we pledge our undivided support to the election of the nominees of the Union State and County Conventions, using all honorable means for the success of the ticket.

Resolved, That Ulysses S. Grant, the lion of war, and the scourge of traitors, is our first and only choice for the next President of the United States, and we devote ourselves to that hero's interest in the coming campaign.

The following communication from S. J. McCormick was, on motion, received and read:

Dear Sir—Inasmuch as I am prevented by indisposition from being present at your meeting this evening, I desire to assure you and those whose principles will be there represented, that any action which may be taken—any resolutions which may be adopted—will have my hearty, my earnest and unreserved approval.

I had the honor to be one of the original signers to the first call ever issued for a convention of men of Union principles, in this State; the call which led to the formation of that organization whose principles will be represented in the meeting to-night. Previous to this action I had labored zealously, and to the best of my ability for the cause of that noble specimen of genuine Democracy—Stephen A. Douglas. My convictions were, that the principles laid down in the platform upon which Mr. Douglas was nominated, were the only true principles by which the nation could be saved from civil war, and rescued from the political dangers that then threatened to destroy its vitality. The election passed by, and Mr. Douglas—through the opposition, secession, and machinations of men professing Democracy—was defeated. During the campaign the Democrats who advocated Douglas Democracy were assailed and vilified in every form by the Breckinridge wing of the party. No epithets were too bitter, no calumny too great for our seceding friends to cast upon those who upheld the glorious banner of "the Little Giant." But, as the great majority of Mr. Douglas' friends discovered that to keep up a separate political organization would only aid in dividing the Union sentiment in the North, and thereby give the reins of government into the hands of the country's worst enemies, the great majority of them wisely concluded to follow in the footsteps of their illustrious standard-bearer, and merge themselves into that party which desired to see this glorious Union preserved intact. With these convictions, and in common with a majority of the Douglas Democracy in Oregon, I gave my sympathy and support to the cause of the Union. During the past few years, I have taken no part whatever in politics, for the all sufficient reason, (time and again expressed to my friends, who desired the use of my name in connection with some office of trust or profit,) that, being a prominent member of the Fenian organization I did not desire that my name should be associated with any political movements, and every member of the organization in Oregon will certify to the truth of this statement, that during my term of office in the brotherhood, no political matters were ever introduced into its ranks, nor were any allusions ever made by the press of either political party that the "Fenian vote" would be cast for or against any particular party. In the coming canvass, I sincerely hope that Irishmen—like the men of every other nationality represented in this Republic—will vote as becomes free-thinking, high minded men, who have an abiding interest in the welfare of this, their adopted country, and not (as the mere "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for every pot house politician who thinks he can use "the Irish vote." The Irish American citizens of this Republic have nobly contributed their full share in shaping the course of events in this country, and have contributed not only the brains but the blood even of some of their bravest and best men towards placing this nation upon the pinnacle of pre-eminence which she at present enjoys. Having thus aided in the erection of the most gigantic temple of liberty the world has ever witnessed, let us not, either by our votes or our actions, do ought to desecrate the sacred temple of freedom. No party or political organization, has any claims upon "the Irish vote," and if Irishmen desire to preserve their own self-respect, they will cast aside the fetters of party which has bound them in the past, and vote untrammeled in the future.

Vote to uphold the flag that waved over the grave of the gallant Corcoran; vote to sustain that flag that was crimsoned with the blood of our brothers of the Irish Brigade; vote to uphold those principles and that flag which Thomas Francis Meagher so eloquently eulogized with his tongue, and so nobly defended with his sword. Vote to keep intact this Union which our fellow Fenian Martyrs—Kelley, O'Connor, Moriarty, Condon, and a host of others have battled for, and whose preservation they won at the point of the bayonet. Vote to unite, to build up, to fortify—rather than to dissever, to tear down, to destroy the Temple of Liberty which is typified in these United States. In fine, vote as independent men who love their adopted country more than party—who place the preservation of our present peace as a principle far more dear to them than the obsolete and useless trumpery of by gone resolutions and party platforms.

There are but two political parties in this State—there can be but two positions for any citizen to take—for or against this Union. Let us, therefore, as Irishmen, as citizens of this land wherein all our hopes are centered, and in which we behold all that makes life dear—let us, I say, ask ourselves the question,—On which side of the great issue stood Meagher and Corcoran and the host of men who fought and fell for their country's cause, and where to-day stands Sheridan—that noble monument of Irish-American heroism? Let us ask ourselves these questions, and the answer will be plain—the dead fell fighting for the cause of the Union, the living battle for it to day. Then, I would say to my fellow-countrymen, "go thou and do likewise," stand in the footsteps of your representative men, the very mention of whose names makes the blood in your veins course quicker with the genuine Celtic pride, and by so doing, believe me, dear sir they will not only elevate themselves in the estimation of their fellow men, but they will felt a pride within themselves of having done their whole duty to that land which, next to their own ancient Erin, should be dearest to their hearts, and upon the preservation of this Union depends in a great measure the accomplishment of that inestimable boon, the freedom of Ireland, for I hold that from this nation will some day arise a power which will overthrow monarchy in Ireland, and win for our ancient home a place among the nations of the earth.

With best regards and warmest wishes for all that pertains to my native or adopted country's welfare,

I subscribe myself your friend,

S. J. McCORMICK.

To Capt. Daniel O'Regan, Portland.

The meeting was then addressed by Captain O'Regan, J. H. Egan, W. J. Butler and D. J. Malarky. After which, on motion, an Irish Union Club was formed, and twenty-three members signed the roll. After which the meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

A city paper speaks of a "Democratic flag" which is said to be flying in Portland. The Democratic party flew no flags in this State during the rebellion. Gov. Whiteaker advised them to abstain from Union demonstrations. In almost every neighborhood in the State the "Democracy" deprecated the raising of flags, and in many places, in 1861, Democratic opposition was so strong that Union men were almost obliged to fight to unfold the national banner. There are facts which thousands of our citizens will remember.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 24

Georgia Elections.

NEW YORK, April 23.—August Belmont has received a dispatch from Mr. Snead, Secretary of the Democratic Committee dated Macon, Georgia, which says the Constitution is undoubtedly defeated, and nothing can change the result except such frauds as will be too gross not to be palpable. For that reason such frauds are not to be expected. The defeat of the Constitution is clear by a large majority. Gen. Gordon has been elected Governor of Georgia by an overwhelmingly large majority. [illegible]

New York Items.

One of the matrons of the Orphan Asylum of Cumberland street, Brooklyn, has been arrested and charged with committing a horrible outrage on a boy ten years of age, as punishment for misbehavior. She poured kerosene on his person and then set fire to it, burning him so badly that a surgical operation had to be performed.

It was discovered yesterday by Tanner & Co., of No. 20 Wall street, that $150,000 in bonds belonging to the firm had mysteriously disappeared. The police have been notified but they have not yet learned who committed the robbery.

Nevada Dispatch.

VIRGINIA, April 24.—John Millian, a native of St. Malo, France, was hanged to-day for the murder of Julia Bulette on the night of Jan. 20th, 1867. Two or three thousand persons witnessed the execution, which took place a half mile north of the city. The prisoner read a manuscript in French from the scaffold. He did not say he was not guilty, and blamed the Chief of Police for his conviction. He said he was not afraid to die, and cared only for the disgrace it would bring on his family in France. Revs. Father Manogue and Clark administered extreme unction. Not the least tremor or slight emotion was visible in him before his execution. The black cap was drawn over his head at 12:15 P. M., and the trap fell instantly. In twenty five minutes afterwards he was cut down.

From Cuba.

HAVANA, April 22.—A Herald's special says the Spanish steam frigate Francisco d'Asis, with Captain General Lersundi aboard, accompanied by Telegraphic Inspectors, Engineers and Superintendents of Public Works, arrived at Santiago d'Cuba. Their object is to select a station here for the cable to other Antilles.

Bishop Ontocheo, of Mexico, has gone to Rome.

Miscellaneous.

BOSTON, April 23.—The English correspondent of the Advertiser states that the widow of Dickens' brother in England is in feeble health and has every aid needed from Charles Dickens.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Mail advices from Lagua, Venezuela, to March 22d, state that the rebels are in entire possession of the provinces of Barcelona, Oraguaja, Bolivia and Carribona, national resistance being mainly confined to a paper blockade of the sea coast. General Saltimo had urged the people of that province to return to their allegiance and become citizens. Sarasas will be appointed to offer terms to the insurgents on condition of their return to their allegiance.

Smith, member for Big Bend, who knocked him down and beat him severely about the head with a cane. The assault was provoked by some remarks made by Robson in the House and an article that appeared in Robson's newspaper reflecting on Smith's conduct. Smith was fined twenty-five dollars and surgeon's fees.

The United States steamer Saginaw, five days from San Francisco, arrived here last evening. She will proceed to Alaska after coaling.

It is reported that the Constitution of Georgia is defeated and that the Democrats have won the election, giving Gordon, a rebel General, a large majority for Governor. One thing is certain. While the revolted States persist in reconstructing with the rebel spirit in the ascendant, while they continue to place leading rebels in all official positions, while they insist on sending such men as the rebel Vice President, rebel Generals and rebel Congressmen to the Congress of the United States and continue to proscribe and persecute loyal men, they will not be permitted to resume their relations with the Government of the Union. They can stay out in the cold as long as it suits them, and in the meantime the laws of the United States will be enforced and the taxes collected in their limits. It is worthy of notice by how easy an adaptation the rebels of Georgia have taken the name of "Democrats." The proceeding accords perfectly with the fitness of things.

"The law is binding on me, constitutional or not, until set aside by the proper tribunal," said General Grant not long ago. In that brief sentence he embodied the true theory of the Federal Constitution and the fundamental duty of patriotism. Submission to constituted authority is that theory and that duty. Had the South accepted that truth in 1861, there would have been no secession, no rebellion, no war and no necessity for reconstruction. Had Andrew Johnson accepted it he would not now be arraigned before that tribunal, the exercise of whose authority is the security which our Constitution provides for good and faithful magistrates.

The Railroad Suit.

PORTLAND, Oregon, April 24, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In your local column of this morning, there appeared the following article:

> The directors of the east side company have not commenced an action against the west side company for any purpose but the President of the east side company has instituted an action in the name of the State, to inquire by what authority certain persons connected with the O. C. R. R. Co. exercise the powers of a corporation. A similar action was commenced last week against a gentleman connected with the east side company. The suit against the west side company was commenced more than a week ago, and immediately after its commencement the attorneys of the west side company proposed to the east side to file papers at once and settle the question [illegible] before the Judge at Chambers, without delay, and the proposition was declined by the east side attorneys. While Mr. [illegible] was in the city an officer of the west side company agreed to submit all questions in dispute to arbitration [illegible] for immediate settlement, and the east side company declined the proposition. [illegible] The west side company stands [illegible] [illegible] Oregon [illegible] [illegible] its desire and request a speedy trial and settlement of the matter.

And as there is no statement made therein with reference to ourselves, namely "that immediately after its commencement the attorneys of the west side company proposed to the east side to file papers at once and settle the questions involved before the Judge at Chambers without delay, and the proposition was declined by the east side attorneys," which is untrue, we deem it but just to ourselves and the public to contradict it in the same public manner in which the statement is made. In the first place, no such proposition as is stated was ever at any time made to the attorneys of the east side company by the attorneys of the west side, or by any one else. On Friday last, while at the Chambers of Judge Upton, for the purpose of arguing a demurrer in the case of State of Oregon by J. Gaston, relator vs. Geo. L. Woods et al., the attorneys of the west side being present, they stated to us that they intended to file a motion in the case against the west side, to make the complaint more specific, and stated that they would like to take up that motion the next day. We stated that it was not convenient as we were engaged and could not possibly attend to the motion that day but also stated at the same time that we had no disposition to delay and would agree to argue the motion referred to at an early day. This is the substance of what took place, and all that ever did take place. There was no proposition "to file papers at once and settle the questions involved" unless the proposition as above stated amounts to that, and every lawyer knows, that knows anything about the case, that the decision either one way or the other upon a motion to make more specific would "not settle the questions involved."

Now we have no objections to Mr. Gaston saying or doing anything that may advance the interests of the west side road, for we hope to see a road built on either side of the Willamette at no distant day, but we protest against statements being made that are untrue when such statements refer to the attorneys in the case and tend to place them in a false position before the community. Besides, we do not believe the interests of either road will be advanced by misrepresentation or falsehood. What propositions in regard to settlement may have been made to other parties we know not. This much, however, we do know, that our instructions from the President of the east side company were at the time of the commencement of the last action, and now are, to not attempt any delay by filibustering or otherwise, but, unless a compromise was effected between the two companies, to prosecute the same to a speedy and final determination.

Very respectfully,

MITCHELL, DOLPH & SMITH,
Attorneys for O. C. R. R. Co., East Side.

THE OVERLAND MAIL.—We find the following in the Chicago Tribune:

Wells, Fargo & Co., are receiving pay for carrying the United States mails, the same as if no railroad had been built west of Omaha, and notwithstanding the fact that it is now carried by the railroad for nearly seven hundred miles, or one third of the distance, for which they receive $750,000 per annum, furthermore, the railroad companies are paid $150 per mile for said service, in addition to the $150 per mile paid to the express company. The House Postal Committee will probably report a bill to cut off the express company, and require them to refund what has improperly been drawn from the Treasury, already amounting to over $300,000.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Wm H Seward

THE VENERABLE SECRETARY IN HIS DECADENCE

We find the following sketch in a letter written by Geo Alfred Townsend to the [illegible]

A few days ago Secretary Seward [illegible] house, the place where I once saw him [illegible] to go to Alaska. It is [illegible] that he will return [illegible] most certainly never again as the statesman of any party, and possibly no more as an [illegible] I am sorry to see the little [illegible] put these vicinities. He was the nucleus of the Republican party. Ay, and his talent sent that one earliest test he delivered upon the irrepressible conflict the North grew [illegible] and moved on the works of slavery. But Mr Seward grew to fear the power of his return. He shrank from the Republican party like Frankenstein from his colossal living man-kin. In vain he retreated to the icebergs of Alaska and the hurricanes of St. Thomas, the avenging giant he had fathered upheld him even there. "This is no country for Irishmen?" You may have the talents of Talleyrand and the style of Irving, but the question is "Where do you live?" Higher than the passionate love of country in this age is devotion to moral ideas interwrought with patriotism. There is a higher law, and will be so long as God is higher than institutions. Mr Seward, seeing that his party which loved him dearly down to 1856—had extirpated slavery and established the domination of Northern ideas, concluded in his over-weening ambition that he would now make a larger geographical party with the moral principles trimmed into the shape of the enlarged section. He assembled a party of trimmers around him, they took Andrew Johnson into the firm, the result was the Philadelphia Convention. The Convention seemed to me, as to you, probably at the moment to be a perfect intent. They hushed up Vallandigham and Seward and Johnson started out to stump for the platform. Away went the good ship Progress as we doubtless thought scuttled and deserted. But State after State sent in its broadside, knocking Mr Johnson's loose English into pi. Johnson was discomfited. But Seward was lost. The third party dodge was always a mean one. A third party can only be made up of irresolutes and recreants. Politics is not a game of finesse here, where you can believe in degrees of things and reason good out of both sides. The splitting of philosophers not of statesmen. Legislating for the present you can only believe or denounce. Never half wheel in politics but wheel! Mr. Seward, a few days before he left here, shed tears in a conversation he was holding with an acquaintance of mine.

"I am traduced beyond my just deserts," he said, "I am the best mis-appreciated man in the country."

I do not think but that Mr Seward has been well appreciated. He has been charged with official dishonesty, with lack of patriotism, or lack of ability. But he never pretended himself to exalted moral principle in the accomplishment of his ends. He never quarreled with his supporters, however corrupt he knew them to be. He never denied himself any gratification, and no servant of the government ever used its facilities in a more lavishly [illegible] way. Perhaps it is mean to refer to this, but Mr Seward has been particularly exempted from the mere coarseness of partisan assaults. He has lived like an English Cabinet Minister, with a steam yacht at his door, a cellar full of Markel Murray's wines, and everybody has patiently listened to his dinner anecdotes. His diplomacy has been a delightful life of authorship. We all like him as an amiable, rather trifling, not very courageous person, but we are too much Americans to go like the wild Irish after the coat-tails of any public man. The country has [illegible] with Mr. Seward, sorry for his tears, sorry for his wounded spirit, but more sorry for his [illegible] judgment, and defection [illegible] we bid him adieu as General [illegible] There [illegible] is said to have bidden his [illegible] mother adieu, saying "I am grieved [illegible] been our duty." We go on, [illegible] the [illegible] that we shake from our [illegible] our blood and our love. We are [illegible], let every man [illegible] his own biography!

FINANCIAL & COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, April 24, 1868

Gold was quoted at New York on the 23d at 139¾—an advance since our last report. On the same date Legal Tenders were quiet at 71c, buying, and 71½@71¾ selling.

The last quotations of Pacific coast wheat, at New York, April 22d, were $3 15@3 25. Flour, $12 75@$14 75. Wool, 18@35c as extremes.

At Liverpool, California wheat steady at 16s 2d, per cental.

The [illegible] from San Francisco concerning the breadstuffs market, have a gloomy tone. The [illegible] complain that the receipts of flour from Oregon have been so large as to [illegible] the market, and in view of [illegible] arrivals, a further decline in prices is confidently predicted. Wheat is also dull at $2 50 as an extreme price for best [illegible]. Up to the 22d the receipts of flour [illegible] were 59,000 bbls; of wheat, 20,000 [illegible] Best [illegible] brands quoted, jobbing, at $7 25@7 37½ in quarter sacks. The wheat sent by the [illegible] sold [illegible] private, 600 bags, at $2 45.

Since our last report the shipments from this port of Oregon produce, mostly flour and wheat, aggregate about 1,000 tons. Within the week the aggregate will be not less than 2,500 tons. The amount on hand is still much larger than that and the arrivals continue to be limited only by the carrying capacity of the river steamers. It is believed that little more than half the crop of 1867 has yet come down the river but the receipts must soon fall off as the declining prices will tend to discourage [illegible] a [illegible] portion of the remainder on hand will doubtless remain in store till after harvest.

We have few changes to note in prices this week, though it is almost certain that there must be a reduction soon, of the present quotations of flour and wheat. In consequence of the comparatively small amount of work lately done in the California mills, there is some scarcity of feed, below and prices have stiffened. We quote Middlings and Ground Feed at $35 per ton—an advance.

In [illegible] the [illegible] market is more quiet than [illegible] the [illegible] of the spring trade. Groceries, an exception, have been rather lively. Dry Goods—trade fair with firm figures for all cotton goods. Hardware very inactive, though prices in San Francisco are reported a little improved. The season for Agricultural goods having passed, we offer a revised list of seasonable articles from the house of Messrs Knapp, Burrell & Co. In other departments of trade, there is no thing new worthy of note.

We quote the following from the S F Bulletin of the 18th, as furnishing a very fair view in brief of the condition of the dry goods markets, and therefore of interest to our dealers, generally

The local Dry Goods trade is in perfect sympathy with the quiet [illegible] of the general markets. Oregon customers having been to a great extent supplied business is more restricted than ever being confined principally [illegible] points [illegible] by water and railroad. However the obstacles to interior communication will soon be removed when a considerable degree of activity will doubtless be realized. Since our last general review the market, (March 7th,) prices have undergone some changes, which are noted below. Most of the goods now [illegible] from the hands of importers [illegible] were purchased in the Eastern markets when prices were at the lowest point reached in months. These goods are selling at 5 to 10 per cent lower than it would be possible to sell similar descriptions now [illegible] the way, since in the meantime the market at the East has materially advanced, owing to the rise in cotton. Whether the improvement will be of a permanent character cannot of course be definitely stated. The present indications justify the impression that [illegible] prominent manufacturers at the East and in [illegible] [illegible] buying up all the Cotton and Wool they could secure without first having intelligently weighed the probabilities for and against such action. Under these circumstances the Dry Goods market is generally firm and prices have an upward tendency. Good 10-4 sheetings are [illegible] at 40@45c the inside figure for [illegible] makers. 9-4 sell at 3[illegible]c, 6-4 [illegible]c, 5-4, 2[illegible], 10-4, Mattewamkeag, [illegible]. The general range for 4-4 Shirting is 14@18c and [illegible] 11½c. Lonsdale and Masonville, 16½@17c, and White Rock 18c. Good brands of common 4-4 Brown Sheetings may be had at 12½@15c and Blue Denims 14@18c. Domestic Prints are very firm at unchanged quotations. Wamsutta's command 9½@10½c, Allen's, Dunnell's Sprague's American and [illegible] 11@11½. [illegible] [illegible] new styles [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] brands in the same ratio. [illegible] [illegible] Apron Checks [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Mills,) 10[illegible] cents and upper [illegible] an advance. Ordinary grades of Canton Flannels are steady at 15@22½c and fine grades [illegible]. Kentucky Jeans [illegible] 18@30c for good makes and 35c for Richmond and kindred qualities. Linens of all [illegible]

[illegible] remain as are without change. We quote State 27½@[illegible]; [illegible] Dress 47½@[illegible]; Irish [illegible], [illegible] and Irish fronting [illegible]. The latter [illegible] very fine [illegible] extra heavy. The [illegible] has [illegible] carried with it a corresponding improvement in Duck, which is now quoted at [illegible] for No 1 Mount Vernon, with [illegible] of the lower numbers down to No 5, then [illegible] No. 1 sells at 45c with [illegible] for each of the higher numbers up to [illegible] 12 0 the additional price for each successive number is [illegible]. The demand for Bags [illegible] Bagging is [illegible] the increase. In all probability the [illegible] of grain to be sacked in this State [illegible] exceed that of any former year, nevertheless [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] the last week half a million [illegible] Burlaps have been sold in this market, [illegible] 8½ per cent [illegible] arrive.

Woolen goods are generally [illegible] the season being [illegible] activity. California Blankets are in fair demand at agents rates. Marysville Blankets [illegible] [illegible] Grey Blankets [illegible] [illegible] Goods [illegible] only sale at unchanged rates.

TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS AND USES THREE FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE

The old high price [illegible] unequalled and unrivaled wheel has been PLACED by a fair working trial made by Mr H Kelly at his saw mill and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature

Mr H W SHIPLEY Sir. In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over [illegible] three Leffel wheels—[illegible] inch [illegible] meters. When I sold [illegible] to you the [illegible] inch Leffel wheel [illegible] the [illegible] it worked the machinery like a top using 2[illegible] water per minute more than the [illegible]. At your request I afterwards took your wheel out that it might be finished, and then put in a [illegible] inch Leffel but it gave [illegible] power than yours while it used 52 cubic feet more water per minute. After some months I replaced your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests. For instance while running the circular saw in a log which required [illegible] inches I added the planer with a 3 inch knife cutting from one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch depth without in the least slacking the speed. After thorough tests of both wheels I am satisfied that your wheel with gate one-eighth of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffel with gates one-third open. At half gate your wheel gives double the power of the Leffel at half gate. At full gate the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel by from ten to twelve per cent. At quarter gate, the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.

N B Mr Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, he being sick at the first, and absent from the State at the second trial.

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases [illegible] Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from [illegible] into this state. Look at their pallid, [illegible] disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] the enjoyments of life. In this terrible situation [illegible] and suffer until death closes the scene. Let [illegible] guard and [illegible] attend to those who are suffering [illegible] any of these terrible [illegible] malaries [illegible] they are cured [illegible] cured before it be too late. [illegible] then immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and [illegible] to cure the most inveterate cases without the use of any [illegible] drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their [illegible] curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians of Europe and their places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emission the consequence of self-abuse, solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical means, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise [illegible] the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory [illegible] flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If [illegible] not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails in effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] any resort to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] under any of these fearful maladies, should not [illegible] sacred responsibility resting upon them but delay [illegible] obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to patients a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no [illegible]

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, [illegible] medicines promptly forwarded, free from [illegible] curiosity to any part of the country, with full [illegible] direct [illegible] use, for Ten Dollars sent in a registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with their sham certificates, dupe the [illegible]. Some of the self styled doctors whose [illegible] be found in the daily and weekly [illegible] of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and being too lazy to work at their trades. Some are [illegible], shoe-makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory [illegible] will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the directory for 1867 and 1863. The only way to avoid [illegible] is to make enquiry—it will cost you [illegible] may save you many regrets, for as [illegible] advertising [illegible] in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no [illegible] safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not do [illegible] by publishing bogus false certificates, but [illegible] letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy you [illegible] at his office of his ability to treat [illegible] [illegible] cure.
